FOREWORD

The Westchester County Department of Health (WCDH) plays a leading role in promoting health, preventing disease, and prolonging meaningful life for Westchester County residents. The WCDH's ongoing mission involves monitoring and controlling the spread of diseases, regulating air and water quality, enforcing state and local sanitary codes, promoting and endorsing local public health activities, and ensuring the availability of community health services.

To comply with New York State Public Health Law, WCDH has conducted its Community Health Assessment by analyzing and reviewing data from various sources as well as a public opinion survey, which describes the current health status of Westchester County residents, identifies existing gaps and health care barriers, assesses the availability and accessibility of health care services, and specifies public health priorities in the county. The major findings from this assessment process are presented in the report: Westchester County Community Health Assessment, 2022-2024.

Appendix 1. Data Sources and Definitions

American Community Survey (2016-2020)

Demographic and socio-economic information for Westchester County for the 2022 Annual Data Book is primarily based on data from the 2016-2020 American Community Survey, collected by the United States Census Bureau.¹⁰

Beginning in 2010, the American Community Survey (ACS) is a nationwide survey replacing the “long form” of the 10-year census and provides updated demographic, economic, social, and housing information of the communities of this country. The decennial census in 2010 now only collects ‘short form’ data on age, sex, race and ethnicity. Data for the ACS is collected every month throughout the year, and reflects sampling from the current Master Address File of the 2000 Census, updated with information from the United States Postal Service (USPS) Delivery Sequence File, USPS field operations, and address information from partnerships with local governments. Data now includes all county and county-equivalents nationwide and all municipios of Puerto Rico, for areas with a population of 65,000 or more, including Westchester County. In 2006, the ACS began collection of data from sampled persons in group quarters (for example, military barracks, college dormitories, nursing homes, and correctional facilities). The 2016-2020 ACS estimates describe the average characteristics of the population over the period from January 1, 2016 to December 31, 2020.¹¹ Data definitions of demographic, housing, and socioeconomic information are similar to those used in the 2000 Census.¹²

The five-year averages were calculated by pooling the 60 months of collected data. The pooled data were weighted to adjust for geographic factors, month-specific weighting steps, population and housing unit controls, and inflation factors. Geographic corrections were referenced to the final year in the multiyear period. For example, average estimates for the 2016-2020 time period are referenced to geographic boundaries from 2020.

In several instances throughout the demographic tables, standard errors of combined categories (such as the sum of males and females) were estimated by the WCDH, using the method described in the document Using American Community Survey Estimates and Margins of Error, a US Census Bureau publication available at <https://www.census.gov/programs-surveys/acs/guidance/training-presentations/acs-moe.html>. The estimate of the standard error of a sum is approximately the square root of the sum of the two individual standard errors squared. However, as noted in the Census

¹⁰ Note that information was garnered on the 2007-2011 ACS for review, comparison and related analytical purposes because this was the last period data was collected for the Community Health Assessment Supplemental Report on Population.

¹² In many cases, definitions are identical but in the 2013-2017 ACS definitions are more expansive and additional information is provided to become more explanatory.

document, “this method will underestimate or overestimate the standard error if the two estimates interact in either a negative or positive way.”

Race and Ethnicity

The concept of race, as defined by the U.S. Census Bureau, reflects self-identification by people according to the race or races with which they most closely identify. The categories of race are considered to be socio-political and should not be interpreted as scientific or anthropological in nature.

White: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of Europe, the Middle East, or North Africa. It includes people who indicate their race as “White” or report entries such as Irish, German, Italian, Lebanese, Near Easterner, Arab, or Polish.

Black or African American: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of sub-Saharan Africa. It includes people who indicate their race as “Black or African American” or provide written entries such as African American, Ethiopian, Somalian, Senegalese, Sudanese, Ghanaian, Kenyan, Nigerian, or Haitian.

American Indian or Alaska Native: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of North or South America (including Central America) and who maintain tribal affiliation or community attachment.

Asian: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of the Far East, Southeast Asia, or the Indian subcontinent, for example Cambodia, China, India, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, Pakistan, the Philippine Islands, Thailand, and Vietnam.

Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of Hawaii, Guam, Samoa, or other Pacific Islands. It includes people who indicate their race as “Native Hawaiian,” “Guamanian or Chamorro,” “Samoan,” and “Other Pacific Islander.”

Other Race: Includes all other responses not included in the “White,” “Black or African American,” “American Indian or Alaska Native,” “Asian,” and “Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander” race categories described above. Respondents providing write-in entries such as multiracial, mixed, interracial, or a Hispanic/Latino group (for example, Mexican, Puerto Rican, or Cuban) in the “Some other race” write-in space are included in this category.

Hispanic or Latino: The data on the Hispanic or Latino population were derived from answers to a question on the 2000 census that was asked of all people. The terms “Spanish,” “Hispanic origin,” and “Latino” are used interchangeably. Some respondents identified with all three terms while others identify with only one of these three specific terms. Origin can be viewed as the heritage, nationality group, lineage, or country of birth of the person or the person’s parents or ancestors before their arrival in the United States. People who identify their origin as Spanish, Hispanic, or Latino may be of any race.

Two or More Races: People may have chosen to provide two or more races either by checking two or more race response check boxes, by providing multiple write-in responses, or by some combination of check boxes and write-in responses. The race response categories shown on the questionnaire are collapsed into the five minimum race groups identified by the Office of management and Budget (OMB), and the Census Bureau “Some other race” category. For data product purposes, “Two or more races” refers to combinations of two or more of the following race categories:

- White
- Black or African American
- American Indian or Alaska Native
- Asian
- Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander
- Some other race

Education

Educational Attainment: Educational attainment refers to the highest level of education fully completed in terms of the highest degree or highest level of schooling. This is distinct from the level of schooling that an individual is currently attending.

Labor Force Participation and Employment

Labor force: The labor force includes all people classified in the civilian labor force, plus members of the U.S. Armed Forces (people on active duty with the United States Army, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard). The Civilian Labor Force consists of people classified as employed or unemployed.

Employed: Employed includes all civilians 16 years old and over who were either (1) "at work" -- those who did any work at all during the reference week as paid employees, worked in their own business or profession, worked on their own farm, or worked 15 hours or more as unpaid workers on a family farm or in a family business; or (2) were "with a job but not at work" -- those who did not work during the reference week but had jobs or businesses from which they were temporarily absent due to illness, bad weather, industrial dispute, vacation, or other personal reasons. Excluded from the employed are people whose only activity consisted of work around the house or unpaid volunteer work for religious, charitable, and similar organizations; also excluded are people on active duty in the United States Armed Forces. The reference week is the calendar week preceding the date on which the respondents completed their questionnaires or were interviewed. This week may not be the same for all respondents.

Citizenship Status and Language Spoken at Home

Foreign-born population: People who are not U.S. citizens at birth. This includes respondents who indicated they were a U.S. citizen by naturalization or not a U.S. citizen.

Native population: People born in either the United States, Puerto Rico, or a U.S. Island Area such as Guam or the U.S. Virgin Islands, or people born in a foreign country of American (U.S. citizen) parent or parents.

Citizen: People who indicate that they were born in the United States, Puerto Rico, a U.S. Island Area, or abroad of a U.S. citizen parent(s) are citizens. People who indicate that they are U.S. citizens through naturalization are also citizens. Naturalized citizens are foreign-born people who identify themselves as naturalized. Naturalization is the conferring, by any means, of citizenship upon a person after birth.

Not a Citizen: People who indicated they were not U.S. citizens at the time of this survey.

Language spoken at home: The language currently used by respondents at home, either "English only" or a non-English language, which is used in addition to English or in place of English. Beginning with 2016 1-year and 2012-2016 5-year American Community Survey (ACS) data, coding of specific languages reflects languages in accordance with the International Organization for Standardization's ISO-639-3 standard. To the extent possible, languages in the code list are those considered individual spoken languages.

Family Structure and Housing

Household: A household consists of all the people who occupy a housing unit. A house, an apartment or other group of rooms, or a single room, is regarded as a housing unit when it is occupied or intended for occupancy as separate living quarters; that is, when the occupants do not live and eat with any other persons in the structure and there is direct access from the outside or through a common hall.

Family Household: A group of people living in a household who are related to the householder by birth, marriage, or adoption.

Non-Family Household: A non-family household consists of a householder living alone (a one-person household) or where the householder shares the home exclusively with people to whom he/she is not related.

Family: A household whose members are related by birth, marriage or adoption. Family households may also include unrelated individuals.

Married-Couple Family: A family consisting of two legally married people, with or without own children under 18.

Single Mother Family or Single Father Family: A family household consisting of one parent, no spouse, and own children under 18. Other adults may share the household as well.

Related children: Includes all people in a household under the age of 18, regardless of marital status, who are related to the householder. Does not include householder's spouse or foster children, regardless of age.

Overcrowded Housing: An overcrowded housing unit is defined as a housing unit with greater than 1.0 persons per room.

Income and Poverty

Total income: The sum of the amounts reported separately for wages, salary, commissions, bonuses, or tips; self-employment income from own non-farm or farm businesses, including proprietorships and partnerships; interest, dividends, net rental income, royalty income, or income from estates and trusts; Social Security or Railroad Retirement income; Supplemental Security Income (SSI); any public assistance or welfare payments from the state or local welfare office; retirement, survivor, or disability pensions; and any other sources of income received regularly such as Veterans' (VA) payments, unemployment compensation, child support, or alimony. In the ACS Surveys, income was reported for the period covering the last 12 months.

Poverty: Following the Office of Management and Budget's (OMB's) Directive 14, the Census Bureau uses a set of money income thresholds that vary by family size and composition to delineate who is in poverty. If the total income for a family or unrelated individual falls below the relevant poverty threshold, then the family or unrelated individual is classified as being "below the poverty level."

Commuting

Commuting: Commuting refers to a worker's travel from home to the geographic location at which workers carry out their occupational activities. A worker is defined as a person 16 years old and over, who was employed and at work during the reference week. Commuting method refers to the principal mode of transportation or type of conveyance that the worker usually used to get from home to work during the reference week. People who used different means of transportation on different days of the week were asked to specify the one they used most often, that is, the greatest number of days. People who used more than one means of transportation on a daily basis were asked to report the one used for the longest distance during the travel to work.

1 For regional planning purposes, municipalities are grouped into six geographic health planning regions.

2 A town may or may not include incorporated villages located within the town boundary. When it does not include any incorporated villages within the town boundary, the statistics refer to the town as a whole (T). When it does include incorporated villages within its boundary, the statistics refer to the unincorporated area within the town boundary (TOV). The entities of Harrison, Mount Kisco, and Scarsdale are both towns and villages (V/T). The land in two towns, Pelham and Rye, has been incorporated into separated villages. Cities are denoted by (C).
